TALMAGE AND BEECHER.

Some Facts About the Money They Make in and Out of Their Pulpits.

[From the N Y Sun]

Of all the well known clergymen, Talmage and Beecher have found their popularity most profitable from a pecuniary point of view Of the two, Beecher has made the most money Money enough has passed through his hands to have made the fortunes of a dozen men of closer grip, but dollars tumble from his possession in several ways. The probigality of the notorious preacher has been used as an argument against his moral soundness With his known income and the ordinary expenses of a minister living in good style, he should, it is averred, according to the ordinary rules of life, be worth at least half a million; but the whole of his possessions do not, it is believed, exceed $50,000, if the mortgages on his property are considered The hey day of Beecher's money making was before his name was clouded with scandal He had $20 000 from his church some thousands from Robert Bonner, editor and proprietor of the New York Ledger, a heavy income from his 'Star papers,' his 'Norwood" and his published sermons; good fat fees for signing his name to marriage certificates, $200 or $300 any night that he chose to run over to New Jersey, sally into New England or the interior of New York State to lecture He had $5 000 or 6,000 as editor of the Christian Union and then he got a handsome advance pay on his contract for writing a Life of Christ—a work which he never completed and left on the hands of J B Ford & Co, whose financial ruin it wrought

The scandal greatly diminished Beecher's income from outside sources The Union ceased to pay, and was saved from total eclipse by the efforts and capital of Beecher himself, Thomas B Sherman, Henry W. Sage, and others The sale of his book came to a full stop The scandal cost him $118 000. $100,000 of which a year's salary included, his his church paid Beecher's present salary is 15 000. He has the expense of his costly house in Peekskill on hand, and it is said that tradesmen and architects preyed upon him right and left in gratifying his desire to "express himself in a house," and that when the bills rolled up far beyond his calculation, he had to forego a summer's revel in the White Mountains and go to lecturing out west

He came back ten or twelve thousand dollars richer, and then announced his retirement from the lecture field This year has probably afforded Beecher an income of $30,000. His income for the next year depends largely upon the sale of pews in January. His salary will be $20 000 if the receipts at that time warrant it Beecher has a mortgage of $15 000 on his house at 124 Columbia Heights, which, although due, remains unpaid The United States Trust Co are the mortgagees

Talmage has made his efforts pay well, and he knows where to put his money so that it will be handy on a rainy day He has a fine four story house, capped with a tower at South Oxford street and De Kalb avenue but it is in the name of Susie C Talmage, his wife It was purchased on September 29, 1875 of Mrs Helen A Knowles wife of Emerson Knowles, and the price paid was $30,000 The cost was high, but Talmage wanted the house He left a mortgage of $17 000 on it, which he went to work with a will to reduce, and last March he cancelled it with $11 000 in cash and a new mortgage of $6 500 which exists now, and he becomes due in September, 1880 After Mr Talmage took an extended lecture tour and came back with pockets crammed with checks sufficient to reduce his mortgage, he, too, announced his retirement from the lecture field; but he occasionally dodges out of Brooklyn to make an extra $150 and says nothing about it

Talmage is not now connected with any religious paper, having found that the different papers he tried needed more money than their legitimate earnings to keep them afloat His sermons, however, are printed by newspapers from St Johns to San Francisco and from Toronto to Cape Town. Mr B. R Corwin said. "Now I want to say positively that Mr Talmage does not receive a cent for these sermons. I once negotiated the sale of official reports of his sermons to the London Christian Age for $1, 500 a year in gold, but the contract had not been under way long before some other papers began to complain, and Mr. Talmage refused to receive any more pay for the newspaper publication of his sermons Of course when a book of his sermons is published he gets his royalty"

It is believed, however, that Talmage gets from the different papers to which he supplies manifold copies of his sermons sufficient to pay his stenographer He has a revenue from two western papers publishing houses which publish his sermons in book form, and a royalty on the sales of his "Crumbs Swept Up," "Abominations of Society," and "Sports That Kill," which the Harpers publish He has a new book in press from which large returns are expected None of his friends know his revenue from his literary work His present salary is $7,000 An estimate of his entire income for this year is between $10 000 and $12 000 This year however, his salary will be $12 000, and his income will be probably about $15 000 Talmage has a good conception of values, and it is predicted that he will be a rich man in twelve years.

SECRET COMMUNISM IN RUSSIA.

The following are extracts from the Constitution of a secret Communistic Society in Russia

That each member shall employ his utmost exertions and abilities at the peril of his life, to cooperate in the plan which shall be adopted for the obtaining of liberty.

That he shall obey the Chief with the most perfect submission; and that as he finds himself, by injustice and despotism, discarded from all civil any political society, he will, without and restriction, obey the orders of the Chief elect, acknowledging him as his sovereign and master.

That having rendered himself, by virtue of his oath, worthy of the confidence of the Society, without any restriction each individual shall engage to keep the most profound secresy concerning every thing that shall have been treated or determined, and in case he shall have betrayed this engagement, he shall acknowledge himself culpable and worthy to be punished with death, to which he shall submit from the moment of his apostacy, submitting himself, likewise, to be the instrument of execution of every sentence of death which shall be decreed in the committee against any other of the Society whomsoever he may be

That if in case of treachery, either the Chief, or any other of the Society, shall fall into the hands of Government, he shall keep the most profound secresy respecting their union; and the Association shall use the means, at the risk and peril of their lives, to take that person out of the hands of Government, either by rescuing him by open force, or by providing him with poison or arms to deliver himself from oppression.

The Chief, on being elected, shall swear to keep the following articles

1. That he shall employ his utmost abilities to form a plan which he shall carry into effect at the peril and risk of his life. This plan shall be, giving as liberty early as possible

2 That in case the Chief shall be desirous of renouncing his plan, or shall remonstrate to that purpose to the Committee, or even shall converse to that effect with any individual separately, he shall be punished with death, and the Committee shall have the right to execute this sentence in whatever manner may to them appear the most expedient,

LOVE AND POLITICS.

Romance has it that a niece of Governor Vance registered a vow before the last Congressional election in Tennessee that unless Robert L Taylor carried the day in his district she would never be his wife Like the Knights of old he started out to battle for his lady fair, his only arms a $5 bill and a fiddle His district was strongly Republican; he was a Democrat young, with no experience as a politician His opponent sneered at him as the 'beardless boy the fiddles" The story goes that his cause was taken up and with so much warmth that he was not under the necessity of drawing on his slender pile. He talked and fiddled his way through the district, the violin figuring as an incident of the strife In opening his campaign Taylor approached the speaker's stand with a violin in one hand and carpet bag in the other, saying that the serious charge had been made against him that he was a fiddler Laying fiddle and carpet bag side by side he asked the audience to choose They took the music and "elected him to Congress and to matrimony." He is the youngest Congressman elect in the Tennessee delegation. —[Louisville Courier Journal.

SUNDAY..... FEBRUARY 9, 1879

THE DAILY JOURNAL

Is the best daily paper published on the line of the Central Pacific Railroad, east of Sacramento, and having a general circulation throughout the State it is especially valuable as an advertising medium.

THE DAILY AND WEEKLY JOURNAL

Have a combined circulation larger than that of any interior journal of Nevada, excepting those in the Comstock.

THE ASYLUM BILL.

As amended in Committee of the Whole of the Assembly, and recommended for passage, the bill to build an insane asylum in this State, locates it on the prison grounds at Reno, appropriates $100,000, provides that the citizens of Reno shall furnish to the State, free of charge, all water, and makes Gov. Kinkead, Controller Hallock and Treasurer Crockett, the Board of Insane Commissioners In this shape no reasonable objection can be offered against the passage of the bill, and I we earnestly beseech the Legislature to do its duty in the matter. If provision is not made at this session the insane of this State will be kept at Stockton for six years to come. In that time they will have cost the State full $400,000. That amount should be kept among our own citizens; and we honestly believe that the cost of keeping them at home will save the State in six years all that the building will cost.

HAINES SEATED.

On Friday evening the State Senate removed H. F. Dangberg, the sitting member, and seated J. W Haines, Senator from Douglas county. The vote stood 18 to 6. Meder, Independent, and Stewart and McConnell, Democrats, voted in the affirmative, Comins, Republican, voted for Dangberg. In our opinion Haines was justly entitled to the seat.

LONDONERS are discussing the project for covering Regent street, their finest thoroughfare, with a glass roof stretching above the eaves of the houses on either side, and to have the high arcade which such a course would make illuminated by electric lights. A writer in the Boston Journal thus says of that and similar projects: "If Regent street takes the initiative in the matter, perhaps the Washington streets, the Broadways and Chestnut streets on this side of the water will follow so distinguished an example. Roofing a whole street with glass, though it might be advisable in the case of narrow, crowded thoroughfare, would be too expensive for general adoption where the streets were of good width Covering the sidewalks with glass roofs would be comparitively inexpensive, and the cost would be many times repaid, even in one generation, by the protection afforded from rain, snow, and ice, and in summer from the hot sun, by the awnings with which the roofs would be provided in sunny locations. It does not need any special gift of prophecy to believe that the city of the future will pay some attention to the comfort of pedestrians; that in the near future people will read with wonder of the discomforts submitted to by this generation without even a protest"

It is doubtful whether the Army bill amendment will be retained when the House comes to vote upon it, as a change of six votes would defeat it Fernando Wood has openly declared his purpose to vote against the entire appropriation if the House insists upon making radical changes in legislation by means of amendments to the appropriation bills. If Wood can secure any considerable following, there is some danger that the entire appropriation bill may be lost, and the work have to be done over again, and it is very certain that if the Army Commission proposition and the Indian Transfer bill goes to the Senate as parts of the regular Army Appropriation bill, the contest in that body will be very short, with the probability of a serious deadlock between the houses. The White Banning amendments contain substantially the reorganization features of the Burbside Commission bill, with a reduction of regiments, and a reserved list. The Indian trasfer the Indian Bureau to the War Department, with the omission of only two or three sections.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON Jan. 30, 1879.

St. Martin has been subjected to a pretty severe cross fire, first and last, and has stood it fairly well. With the exception of what he was reported to have said relative to Mr. Stenger's complicity in the suppression of Republican testimony by the

POTTER SUB COMMITTEE

At New Orleans, he substantially reiterated the statements of his affidavit which Secretary Sherman filed with the Committee. Gen. Butler found the witness not disposed to submit to his bullying and insulting manner, and either the chances of encountering the badgered witness some dark night, which St. Martin remotely hinted at, or some other equally restraining influence seemed to induce the General to assume a more respectful demeanor towards him. St Martin may be dismissed with the statement that he has emerged from the fire a good deal less damaged and demoralized than the average Louisiana politician who has figured before investigating committees here during the past eighteen months. He seems to have been induced to go squarely back on himself only once, when some of the others did so innumerable times. If his testimony relative to some of the men who accompanied the Committee south as confidential agents of Tilden is to be relied on, their lack of moral perception seems as marked as those of the great reformer himself and they appear to have been equally unscrupulous in their methods to advance his fortunes. Fair progress has been made in the

CIPHER TELEGRAMS

Business since $10,000 was voted wherewith to begin their investigation. Mr. Orton was at one time tempted to burn all the political telegrams relative to the campaign of 1876 in his possession, and it is improbable that any material interest would have suffered had he yielded to the temptation. For it may be stated as generally true that we have very little practically to show for the hundreds of thousands of dollars that have been wasted in this line in the last decade. While they have operated to make or mar the fortunes of particular professional politicians, perhaps, they have been too often followed by whitewashing reports to shield those suffering from the inquiries; and they have so rarely been succeeded by legislation or other action to correct or punish the lawlessness and crimes revealed that such instances have been the exception to the general rule. Few intelligent readers of current events, I presume, doubt

TILDEN'S COMPLICITY

In the conspiracy to steal or buy enough electoral votes to make him President, whatever their politics. But what will it profit the tax burdened people who contribute the money to establish that fact as far as will ever be established by a Congressional investigation? Butler's zig zag political course involves so many flat inconsistencies and absurd contradictions—his name is inseperably associated with everything that is tricky and disreputable in national politics that he is expected to turn up somewhere within the limits of very startling expose made when the light is turned on. They are not disappointed in this case though we have advanced hardly far enough to locate him. Wm. E. Chandler, with the readiness and gusto of a man who has nothing to conceal, and certainly so far as we have gone the the telegraphic correspondence between the Republican managers here and in Florida pending the count of the vote in November, 1876, is characterized by a cause almost austere in its propriety, showing their wisdom was only excelled by their virtue. But alas for poor Samivell. He only had one good eye and he couldn't be expected to keep that well open to wind and looking out for squalls, when it was so intently turned on the mirage of the White House "dead ahead" and almost within stepping distance seemingly. But truth lies at the bottom of the well. Potter & Co. are digging like beavers and if they can only be held to a straight course, not turning to right or left to avoid a party explosion, we may reach it anon.

BRAGG'S MUTINY

And immunity from punishment has apparently encouraged several Democratic Senators to declare their opposition to Southern war claims, including two ex Confedecates, Messrs. Hill of Georgia and Morgan of Alabama. If these two Senators will go home and declare similar sentiments to those avowed in the Senate, they may do much to discourage their section from piling claims up here in the Capitol awaiting Democratic supremacy to have them allowed. Besides that, they will stimulate the people to go to work and repair the destruction of the war when once convinced that the Government can't be depended on to do it, and they will help remove apprehensions that are justified by the large number and seems involved in those already filed. They will thus, also, advance real conciliation It is likely that the estimate of the

COMMISSIONER OF PENSIONS

Fully covers the whole amount that will be needed to meet the requirements of the new pension bill. Many estimate it at $25.000,000 The only real regret that is generally felt is that greater care to guard against fraud was not taken It is the prevailing belief that the Administration is certain of a defeat in the New York Custom House nominations to be voted on next Friday probably. Senator Christiancy's appointment to Peru clears the way for the return of "Old Zach" in the Senate.

LOGAN.

PRESIDENT GREVY'S message says: "I do not remain below the level of what France has a right to expect from my efforts and devotion. Since I rely upon and am submissive to the great law of parliamentary government, I shall never enter into a conflict with the national will, conveyed through the constitutional organ. In the bills which it will submit to a vote of the Chamber the Government will be guided by the real wants and unmistakable wishes of the country. Now that the two great powers of the State are animated by one spirit, which is the same that actuates France, the Government, while taking account of the rights acquired and services rendered, will take care that the Republic is served by functionaries who are neither its enemies nor its detractors"

AN Indian carried the dead body of his sister to the top of a hill at Rosebud, Nebraska and stationed himself by it with a rifle in his hands, intending to kill the first white man who came within range, so that a white spirit might accompany her to the happy hunting grounds He stood there six hours, firing occasional but harmless shots at distant persons. Then a white man who had lived many years among the Indians, and whose wife was a squaw, walked unsuspectingly that way. The Indian shot him in the breast and was satisfied. But the wounded man recovered, and accepted 13 horses, 40 blankets and an apology in settlement.

OF the Great Horn silver mine at Frisco, Utah, the Salt Lake Tribune of Feb 5 says: The San Francisco Stock Report, usually one of the best informed papers on the coast as regards mining matters, seems to regard the sale of the Great Horn silver mine, Frisco, Utah, to Jay Cooke, as a swindle. It can hardly believe that one half the mine was sold for $2,500 000. Such is the case, neighbor, and the mine has $27,000 000 in sight according to reports received from Frisco yesterday. It is undoubtedly the largest silver mine in the world, and those who doubt it have the privilege of examining it for themselves The owners have no objection to visitors looking through it.

IT is understood that the Republicans of the cipher sub-committee in New York intend to have summoned as a witness Joseph E. Hance, formerly Private Secretary of Tilden when the latter was Governor, and now in the office of the State Treasurer of New York. This gentleman is supposed to have had access to all of Tilden's private dispatches, and for that reason is an important witness, if he will tell what he knows.

WOOLEN GOODS.—The New York Economist in speaking of the two recent fires in that city which destroyed one and a half million dollars worth of woolen goods, says: "We regard both those fires as the two best auction sales we have seen in a long while, as the goods sold for cash being well insured." It also says that wool and woolen goods were never so low as at present

MOUNT ETNA, in Sicily, has varied its traditional habit of throwing up lava of late by discharging immense quantities of mud The pieces would often drop upon each other and form columns ten or more feet high, which would finally fail and become amalgamated with the rest. Much water, of a salt taste, is mingled with the earthy discharges, and contains also mixture of petroleum and sulphur.

NEVADA STATE LEGISLATURE.

NINTH SESSION.

THIRTY-THIRD DAY.

Evening Session.

Senate.

CARSON, Feb 7, 1879.—Senate met at 7 P. M.—President Adams in the Chair.

HAINES-DANGBERG CASE.

On motion of Mr. Boardman the majority and minority reports of the Election Committee were taken up.

Counsel of both parties then presented testimony

Mr. Boardman introduced the following resolution: That the Senate, after hearing of the testimony in the contest case of Haines vs. Dangberg, hereby adopts the minority report of the Committee on Elections, and finds and declares that the general election held in this State on Nov 5, 1878, the said Haines received a majority of all legal votes in Douglas county for the office of State Senator, and that he is entitled to hold and occupy said office as provided by the Constitution of the State, and that the said Dangberg is not entitled to the same nor to further exercise of the rights or duties thereof and is hereby removed therefrom.

Cassidy proposed as a substitute that the proper way of getting at the question would be for Senators to vote for either Haines, Dangberg or a tie, as they might choose.

The Secretary read the statement of the contestant Haines, setting forth the causes for contest.

Cassidy sent up his proposition in writing and argued in favor of a vote for a tie vote if that was the sense of the Senators, instead of voting for either party. Lost.

Cassidy moved to lay the motion offered by Boardman on the table. Lost.

Comins moved to adopt the minority report to retain Dangberg in his seat. Lost.

The final vote giving Haines the seat was Haines, 18; Dangberg, 6.

THIRTY-FOURTH DAY.

Assembly.

Assembly convened at 11 A. M., Speaker Gaston in the chair.

Roll called—Quorum present.

Journal read and approved.

Leave of absence was granted to Messrs. Kennedy, Ferguson and Smith for one day.

The Speaker reprimanded a member of the lobby for voting with the members in the previous day's session.

Smith of Lyon asked and was granted leave to change his vote of the previous day on Hanna's bill prohibiting the employment of Chinese on public works

Those Water Works.

Our item of yesterday in relation to the proposed water works to be introduced in Reno by the Evans Brothers was wrong in one particular. They will not employ elevated tanks, but will force the water directly into the mains from the river. Two turbine wheels will supply the power, so arranged that when one is out of repair the other will be in readiness to keep the supply up. In cases of fire it will be an easy matter to increase the pressure, and of course the supply is limitless. The projectors go below next week to negotiate for the pipe and other material necessary. They will put down six or seven inch mains through the principal streets and place fire plugs at frequent intervals. When these works are completed the rates of insurance will be lessened very materially and the supply greatly increased. No doubt there will be money in it for the Evans Brothers.

A Good Time.

The people who attended the Sheet and Pillow Slip Party at Huffakers, night before last, had a first rate time. The attendance was good, the music first rate and everything went off splendidly.

A RIDE in the cars to Steamboat will give one an idea of the number of cattle and sheep being fed on the meadows. Our farmers are doing a large business in this line this Winter, finding it more lucrative than to send their hay and grain to distant markets.

THE proposition of a direct railroad from Reno to Virginia is being revived. A narrow gauge would not cost over $350,000.

Brevities.

Sam Luttin will pay 90 cents for county scrip.

The minstrels again to-night. They are good.

The District Court will be in session again to-morrow.

Ranchers in the meadows are preparing for their Spring work.

Astonish yourself and your neighbors by going to church to-day.

Greenbacks are very scarce. For that matter, so is all kinds of money.

What has become of the Reno Dramatic Club? Don't give up the ship, boys.

The Savage and Belcher have ornamented their capital stock with a $1 assessment each.

Virginia is again trying its hand at spelling kinky words. Reno will again tackle Webster.

Wm. Davis is still well lost. The Sheriff is doing all he can possibly to catch the runaway, but without avail.

Mrs. S. M. Plummer will start a private school in Reno in a week or so. She has excellent recommendations.

The continuous case of State vs. Owens & Frey again occupied the Justice Court yesterday. It is still on trial.

It is almost time to start a rumor about Eastern capitalists buying a Peavine mine. Those reports are periodical.

The announcement is made that the water mains are thawing out. If they were planted a foot deeper they would not freeze so hard.

Money must be getting plentiful. A gambler deliberately threw away a $5 piece night before last. A herd of tramps are diligently hunting for it.

No services in the Methodist Church to-day. Sunday School will be held in the Baptist Church at 1:30. Next Sunday their Church will be ready for occupancy.

The fellows who strike one for the "price of a meal" are getting very numerous. That business has been overworked and does not pay any more.

Michael Hall drank a quart of whisky in two minutes and a half in Silver the other day and is dead. Won't some of the worthless fellows Reno try it?

Now that the bonanza mines have ceased paying dividends, the boys are looking around for other points in which to make a deal. Bodie and Paradise are on the ascending scale.

Tredway's house had a narrow escape from fire yesterday. A defective flue was the cause. Lively work smothered the flames before much damage was done.

Ormsby House, Carson.

The Ormsby House is the leading hotel of the Capital city, and John T. Pantlind, or "Pant" as he is familiarly called, is a host worthy of the name. Under his management it is becoming notorious throughout the land. We understand the property is for sale at somewhere between $30,000 and $40,000, and "Pant" is willing to take a lease for two years at $12,000, paying the first $6,000 in advance. We should judge it was a good investment.

The Minstrels.

A good house welcomed the Minstrels last evening, and from the first they were highly entertained. The troupe is composed of first class actors, many of them being excellent singers. They play again to night, with an entire change of programme.

A SUDDEN change in the weather yesterday led many to believe that a big storm was brewing, and it commenced active operations last night by raining.

MR. J. H. KINKEAD departed for San Francisco last night, and will abide in the Bay city for a day or two.

A NEW book, written by T. B. H. Stenhouse, to be entitled "The Comstock Illustrated," will soon be in print. It is a rehash of the Virginia City correspondent's letters to the New York Herald. The book will be fully illustrated, descriptive of Virginia City, Gold Hill and the surrounding neighborhood, and will be valuable as a statistical and historical work.

HOUSE bill to relieve certain political disabilities of women passed the Senate Friday by a vote of 40 to 20. The bill now goes to the President for his signature. All the Pacific Coast Senators voted for the bill except Grover.

PIUS IX—PRIVATE PROPERTY.

The sale of the private property of Pius IX. was closed three weeks ago. No Pope, says the New York Tribune, ever received so many presents from all parts of the world, and no Pope was ever so hasty in getting rid of what was given to him. There is not a village church in Italy which does not possess a crucifix, a madonna, a chalice or a censer which was once owned by Pius IX. If he had kept all the presents received during his pontificate the present sale would really have been a grand one. But, on the contrary, the three Cardinals intrusted by him to augment Peter's pence with the sale of his private property have found few things, and none possessing great monetary value. The objects held were, it appears, those which he considered it a duty to keep, and many were constantly used by him in his private apartments. There were pictures of saints, wax and paper flowers, photographs and water colors. There was a whole shop full of red shoes richly embroidered in gold, silver and precious stones. There were white caps, red hats and other objects worn by the Pontiff. His coffee cups and spoons, his chairs and stools, were sold at very moderate prices, and a considerable number of his prayer books were left unsold. It was most curious to see ladies of the nobility leaving the rooms with candlesticks, or even pieces of candles in their hands, for everything, from the precious rings and gold chain to the hot water jug the Pope made use of when shaving, was sold.

GERMANY and Austria have made their quarantine against the Russian plague very rigid, and no doubt consider themselves well fortified against a pestilence whose terrors, for the present, lie in the very fact that its character and dimensions are almost wholly unknown. But should the epidemic really advance toward Western Europe it would probably pay little attention to national boundary lines, notwithstanding the most careful precautions. Dr. Botkin, the Czar's Scotch physician, has made the extraordinary recommendation that the infected villages be burned to the ground with all that they contain, and the inhabitants remove to healthy districts. The Czar is reported in favor of this scheme, which would indicate a high state of alarm in Russian Government circles. Russian science must be in an extremely primitive state if it can discover no means of disinfecting towns without burning them to the ground.

In regard to the State of Nevada's indebtedness, a Carson correspondent of the San Francisco Chronicle says: "The State Treasurer is now in San Francisco completing negotiations with A. Livingstone, by which the State takes in $400,000 of her bonds which bear 9% per cent., and have yet eight years to run. The transaction is made on these terms, that Mr. Livingstone surrenders the bonds so as to guarantee the State 4% per cent. during the life of the bonds, on the amount expended in the purchase. With the exception of a few thousand dollars in scattered bonds of Nevada, this wipes out the entire indebtedness of the State. Its financial condition at present is most excellent. Wise legislation may enable the State to reduce the rate of taxation and still keep the State on a cash basis for the next two years."

THE Washington corespondent of the Commercial Bulletin states that Senator Jones alleges the reason given him by Secretary Sherman for wanting to abolish the Carson Mint was what silver was wanted East in manufactures. Jones urged the duty of the Secretary to coin silver as convenient and issue certificates against it dollar for dollar. He claimed that we can use it freely in the shape of certificates without doing violence to any imaginary money standard, and there is no excuse for Sherman not embracing the present opportunity to issue silver certificates.

A WASHINGTON dispatch says the friends of Linderman declare that during the last month of his sickness he was continually harassed by the pryings and inquiries of Glover's experts. After his case had been pronounced hopeless by his physicians, a request was made by one of the experts for a statement of certain transactions in mining stocks. No sooner was Linderman buried than Glover sent a letter to the President making grave charges against Preston, whom the President thought of appointing Director of the Mint, and asking that he be not appointed. The charges have been examined, and found utterly without foundation.

LATE NEWS.

The pavilion at Sacramento is now used as a county hospital.

Two quite severe shocks of earthquake were felt in Santa Cruz Tuesday last.

The failure of the usual Winter rains causes anxiety throughout Northern India regarding the Spring crops.

In the test case in Winnemucca, the Silver State says, the Judge decided that the suit was void in which the papers were made out on Sunday.

IT is the supposition among the citizens of Beaver county, Utah, that the big town to be built by the owners of the Horn Silver mine will be located at or near Milford.

By way of consoling the shareholders of the exploded City of Glasgow Bank, the Lord Provost tells them that the £5,000,000 sterling lost represents but six months' expenditure of the inhabitants for liquor.

A dispatch from Calcutta, of Feb. 4th, says that Colonel Percy Windham, a distinguished soldier of fortune, formerly with Garibaldi, and with the Northern army in the American civil war, has been killed at Rangoon in attempting a balloon ascension.

Somebody must be lying at a terrific rate in the Reno investigation. Some swear that he was a drunken fool at the battle in which Custer lost his life, while others swear just as hard the other way. Is it a case of revenge or whitewash, or attempts at both?

There were filed in the office of the Secretary of State articles of incorporation of the Standard Consolidated Mining Company, to operate in Bodie District, Mono county, Cal.; capital, $10,000,000.

IT is estimated that from 30,000 to 35,000 men are now on strike at Liverpool. The demeanor of the crowd was most threatening. In consequence of the sailors joining the strikers, the laborers employed in the provision trade also struck. At Waterloo dock the mob broke up stage ing and did much damage. After their expulsion by the police they endeavored to storm the gates. At Princess dock a mob boarded the bark Cora from Wilmington, North Carolina, which was unloading her cargo of rosin and extinguished the fires in the donkey engines and cut the hoisting gear. The mob numbered about 3,000. Smaller mobs terrorized laborers at Queen, Nelson and Bramleymor docks. The police were reinforced, especially near the Sailors Home. A number of laborers sent to Liverpool from Wolverhampton were compelled to return by threats of murder.

THE following Paradise items we copy from the Winnemucca Silver State: "The Bullion mine, on which Morse, Bauman and others have men at work, is developing finely. The ledge is said to be twenty feet wide, and the ore body is said to be the largest and richest yet found in the district. Men just down from the mines say it would gladden the heart of the toughest prospector in the country to look at the ledge as it now appears. A part of the Bullion mine has been bonded by Captain Rawlings of Virginia, who has a force of men employed prospecting it. The Sedan mill has started up and according to the latest accounts is crushing ore at this writing.

THE Democrats in Congress have adopted a new method for buncombe effect. They hold a caucus to bind the minority of their party, and refuse Democratic opponents a say. They then give all the time on such measurers as the Chinese immigration, without any chance to Republican opposing. By such tactics they want to make it appear that only Republicans favor Chinese immigration, while 16 Democrats bound by the caucus voted to repudiate the caucus action.

THE proper committee of Congress has agreed to appropriate $8,000 for the improvement of the navigation of the Sacramento. This sum will be just sufficient to provide lunches champagne, cigars and transportation to the engineers and leading citizens who, of course, will have to explore the Sacramento to see what ought to be done to it.

ONE Joseph Cook, in a lecture on the Chinese question in New York Thursday night, eulogized the Chinese, sneered at our Irish citizens, and bitterly denounced the Anti-Chinese Immigration bill now before Congress.

TALK IS CHEAP.—And so are fine clothing, boots, shoes, and gentlemen's and boys' fine furnishing goods, if you go to the right place to get them. This is a mighty important point, for some people who assert that they sell cheap do nothing of the kind. I do not boast when I say that I defy competition in prices in anything in my line. Besides this I have only one price. I have no preferred customers. Everybody is treated alike at my establishment. My stock is the largest and most complete ever offered in any part of this State. Everything I have is new. No old, musty and out-of-date goods can be found on my shelves. I receive daily by rail and express the latest and best goods, which are obtained at first hand and sold at prices below those now prevailing in New York and Chicago. Let the people come and judge of my prices and examine my stock before going into those humbugging, Cheap John shops, in which they drum into the ear of the customer that they sell at cost and even below cost. Anybody with common sense must know that they lie. No storekeeper sells goods for the fun of the thing. I make a profit on everything I sell, as every honest merchant does, and don't print foolish falsehoods in the vain hope of deceiving the public. One must make a profit to live. I particularly call attention to my full stock of fancy underwear, such as is kept nowhere else in Reno. This class of goods forms one of my specialties. Remember the place. POWDER

Of superior quality, fresh from the mills. It being constantly received and transported into the interior, is delivered to the consumer within a few days of the time of its manufacture, and is in every way superior to any other Powder in Market.

We have been awarded successively

THREE GOLD MEDALS

By the MECHANICS' INSTITUTE and the STATE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY for the superiority of our products over all others.

We also call attention to our

HERCULES POWDER,

Which combines all the force of other strong explosives now in use, and the lifting force of the Best Blasting Powder, thus making it vastly superior to any other compound now in use.

A circular containing a full description of this Powder can be obtained on application to our Office, or of any of our Agents.

Beg to inform the Smoking Public that they are the only manufacturers of Cigars who use at present only 1875 Havana Fillers and 1876 Pennsylvania Wrappers, the latter is grown from Havana seed. Both of above mentioned crops are much superior to anything grown since then and Messrs. L. B. & Co. had the forethought and capital to lay in a sufficient supply to last them until the '77 crops will be sufficiently cured to be worked to advantage, as the latter crop is now it is entirely unfit to be worked for at least 8 months to come as it tastes bitter, cools some what and has a copper color.
